Soviet Army's Position Is Most Critical

Backed Close To Volga River Town Of Kalinin As Battle Rages

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Moscow, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The position of the Soviet army in the Kalinin region is the most critical in the entire front, according to a statement issued today by the Soviet press. The statement said that the German army had broken through the Soviet defenses in the Kalinin region and was advancing toward the city of Kalinin. The Soviet army was fighting a desperate battle to hold the city and the Volga river.

4 Army Airmen Die In Crash; Philippines

Manila, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Four army aviators were killed in the crash of their medium bomber at Clark field in Pampanga province during an aircraft practice last night.

Second Lieutenant Richard R. Kinsley, from Evanston, Ill., the pilot, was killed by a searchlight and lost control of his plane, army officials said. He was a son of Philip Kinsley, veteran member of a Chicago newspaper staff.

Others killed were Privates Robert C. Fankhouser, 22, son of Albert F. Fankhouser of De Paul, Ill.; Clarence A. Drapkin, 21, of Eureka, Cal.; and Francis Brumfield, 22, of Newtonville, Mass.

The bomber and the bodies were almost unrecognizable.

Indict Sawicki For Murder Of Momence Man

Grand Jury Returns Bill Against Youth Under Death Sentence

A 19-year-old Chicago youth who already is under sentence of death, and who has said "killing is as easy as eating ice cream cones," probably won't be much concerned over the news he has been indicted in this county.

For the murder last June 27 of Henry Allan, Pembroke township resident, Bernard "Knute" Sawicki was indicted by the Kankakee county grand jury which last night completed a five-day session.

For three murders in Chicago the same week—the Pembroke youth, Sawicki was found guilty in Chicago last Sept. 26 and is awaiting death in the electric chair.

Busko Crew Brought Ashore in U. S. Boat

A U. S. coast guard cutter (above) swishes through Boston harbor with members of the crew and personnel of the 60-ton Norwegian ship Busko aboard, along with their baggage, after removal from the U. S. naval vessel Bear. The Busko crew was turned over to immigration authorities. Naval men charged that the Busko had been used by a German espionage agent for setting up a secret wireless station. It was seized by the U. S. navy off Greenland.

Merchant Ship Arming Nears Actuality

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Secretary Knox said today that the navy was ready to put guns and gun crews on merchant ships "as fast as the ships come to us" once congress authorizes such action.

Knox spoke as the house rules committee granted parliamentary right of way to legislation lifting the neutrality act's ban against arming the ships. Earlier the foreign affairs committee approved the proposal.

"We're satisfied now we can get enough guns on the ships," Knox told a press conference.

The navy secretary explained that while there were not enough guns immediately on hand to arm all ships at once, guns would be available as rapidly as ships could be brought into port to receive them.

He asserted also that the arming of merchantmen was a highly effective method of protecting them against both aerial and submarine raiders.

U-Boats at Disadvantage
He said that had been the experience of the British already in this war, that armed British cargo ships had shot down a "large number of Nazi planes, and that submarines had been placed at a great disadvantage by being forced to keep under the surface rather than risk being fired upon by a prospective victim."

Under the special rule granted for consideration of the measure, the debate will run throughout tomorrow's session and for one hour on Friday. Leaders said they expected.

Red Cross To Start Annual Drive Nov. 10

Goal 6,750 Members Is Largest Since First World War

The annual roll call drive of the Kankakee county chapter of Red Cross will start Nov. 10. This was determined at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday noon in McBroom's cafe.

Faced with a goal of 6,750 memberships—largest quota since the days of the first world war—the chapter already has begun to recruit workers and hopes to have a force larger than the 214 who obtained 3,900 memberships and $4,445 last year.

J. G. Ginger, roll call chairman, and Clyde Schroeder, vice chairman, pointed out that the quota is 46 per cent more than last year. The increase is the result of new responsibilities taken on by the national office since the United States began to recruit its big army.

During the past year, the organization has not only continued its extensive assistance to war sufferers abroad but also has undertaken many duties and activities in connection with the defense program. Services to the armed forces of the United States alone have added $8,000,000 to the national budget.

The same general situation is true in Kankakee county. The local chapter has taken on a great deal more of work in behalf of defense efforts as well as augmenting its normal services—such as civilian home service, rural and home safety work, life-saving and assistance to veterans, among others.

Some of these activities were outlined by Secretary Max Jaffe for benefit of the new members of the board. Irving Munson, president in absence of the chapter chairman, Donald Gray, The Kankakee Outdoor Advertising company has donated space on its billboards for use during the Red Cross drive and the chapter authorized hiring of Mrs. Lester Gray as secretary for the duration of the campaign.

Ruel Hall thanked the chapter for furnishing first aid instruction for drivers of school buses in the county and Chairman Gray was thanked for obtaining a room in the courthouse for carrying on the sewing project.

Superintendent Hall said that the institute is for inactive teachers as well as those employed. He expects an attendance of 600.

Robert S. Elker Joins Air Corps

Robert S. Elker, 21, of 542 South Third avenue, was accepted today for enlistment in the army air corps and was assigned to Wichita Falls, Tex., where he will apply for the instrument specialist course after his preliminary recruit training.

Corp. Meldrum E. Ankam, recruiting officer stationed at a post office, today announced a change in regulations, now permits army air corps aviation cadets to receive credit for prior flight training.

Cadets may, within the discretion of the air corps supervisor, at the schools, be credited with flying time to a maximum of 30 hours. Sixty hours of flight training is requisite for graduation. This change will enable the War department to take advantage of the civilian pilot training program by allowing credits for previous flying experience. It will also lighten the burden on instructors and planes.

The full course of ground instruction will still be required. This includes 140 hours of training in mathematics, theory of flight, airplane engines, maps and air navigation, meteorology and the operation, maintenance and repair of airplanes.

Bitter Fighting Using Up German War Equipment

Gen. Marshall Says Nazi Armies Pay Tremendous Price In Materials

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—General George C. Marshall was reported today to have told a senate subcommittee that the German armies were paying a tremendous price in material for the ground gained in the drive on Moscow.

This information was said to have figured in the testimony which the army chief of staff gave when he appeared yesterday before the appropriations subcommittee which is considering the new $5,985,000,000 lease-lend bill.

The committee members had questions about the military outlook on the eastern front, but Marshall avoided any predictions on Russia's chances for success in stemming the great Nazi offensive now in progress.

On much the same topic, however, President Roosevelt remarked yesterday that he saw nothing in the present Russo-German military situation to cause him to doubt the success on the United States' lease-lend program.

The President told his press conference that he had no idea yet whether Russia would require aid in the eastern front, and at the same time under the program, and would not know until he received the report of W. Averell Harriman, head of the United States delegation to the recent tri-partite conference in Moscow, who is now on his way home.

While General Marshall refrained from forecasts on the outcome of the current Nazi bid for victory in Russia, he was reported to have told the senate committee that those who were evaluating the long-range effects of the current campaign found encouragement in the fact that the bitter fighting was using up German war equipment rapidly.

In this connection, the chief of staff was said to have urged the committee to speed its appropriation of the proposed new appropriation of American armament production for nations fighting Hitlerism was bound to have its effect in shortening the war.

The committee also was informed yesterday that the Soviet union thus far has paid cash for the supplies which President Roosevelt said were being speeded to Russia, but committee members said it was made plain that even if the U. S. S. R. ran out of money, there would be no break in the flow of material.

Argentina And U. S. Sign New Trade Pact In Buenos Aires

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Argentina and the United States entered a new phase of commercial collaboration today by virtue of a broad trade pact climaxing the "on again-off again" negotiations of 72 years.

The treaty was signed in Buenos Aires last night by United States Ambassador Norman Armour and Argentine Foreign Minister Ruiz Gul-tieri. It gave Argentina freer entry into this country of such staple products as canned corn beef, hides and wool.

It assured the United States of continued "most favored nation" treatment in the shipment of automobiles, refrigerating machinery, and gadgets without number to the rich agrarian republic to the south.

However, these advantages were considered by close observers of Latin American affairs to be minor in comparison to the psychological impact of the agreement.

Indiana School Official Heads St. Charles

Russell W. Ballard Of Gary Named Managing Officer By Green

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 15.—(AP)—An Indiana school official, Russell W. Ballard of Gary, will head the state training school for boys near St. Charles under the Green administration's reorganization program.

Ballard's appointment as managing officer, effective Nov. 1, was announced by Gov. Green last night. He will replace Dr. H. B. Knowles, acting managing officer since William T. Harmon's resignation July 15.

The governor said Ballard was chosen from a field of 46 candidates throughout the nation and was recommended by state welfare director Rodney Brandon as well as a citizens committee headed by Prof. Harrison B. Dobbs of the University of Chicago.

The 47-year-old appointee was a school principal in East Chicago, Ind., for 11 years and since 1936 has been director of the Lake County, Ind., department of public welfare which he organized. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago.

Two Assistants
He will be assisted by Harold E. Johnson of Decatur and Richard Eddy, formerly of the University of Chicago.

In Gary, Ballard said last night emphasis would be placed upon individual study of the young inmates of the school and upon application of proper treatment.

The school "is primarily an educational institution," he stated, "if it were merely a custodial or penal Institution I would not be interested. There is opportunity there for rehabilitation and great good. But miracles must not be expected. I know that the problems of many of those boys are deep-seated. Those problems must be brought into the open and analyzed."

Ballard asserted the greatest care would be exercised in selecting the boys to be sent to the Sheridan branch of the school in LaSalle county with its barred cells and high steel fences. Positive evidence will be required before committing an inmate there he said.

Mr. Green said the personnel at the training school had been expanded in recent weeks and full time directors of education and recreation appointed.

Navy's Official Account Of The Greer Incident

Contradicts German Claim That Destroyer Started Shooting

Washington, Oct. 15.—(P)—The navy's official account of the shooting clash between the U. S. S. Greer and a German submarine disclosed today that a report from a British patrol plane put the destroyer on the trail of the U-boat.

It also flatly contradicted the German claim that the Greer started dumping depth bombs on the submarine more than two hours before the U-boat commander loosed his first torpedo.

The navy stated that the torpedo was fired first, and eight minutes later the first depth charges went over the Greer's side.

The report on the encounter in the north Atlantic was made public last night by Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the senate naval committee, which requested the information from Navy Secretary Knox.

It was submitted in the form of a statement by Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, who accompanied it with answers to a series of questions propounded by the committee with reference to the incident.

Story of Encounter
The matter-of-fact recital gave this running story of the encounter:

On Sept. 4 the Greer was ploughing along en route to Iceland with U. S. mail, passengers and some freight. She was 75 miles southwest of the island and "directly in the path of communication between American ports and Iceland"—a lane which President Roosevelt specifically order the navy on July 7 to keep "free of all hostile activity or threat thereof."

At 8:40 a. m. a British plane notified the Greer that a submarine was submerged 10 miles ahead directly on the course the destroyer was following.

The Greer immediately crowded on speed and zigzagged her way to the location reported. At 9:20, five minutes after reaching the vicinity, the destroyer's underwater sound detection equipment picked up the propeller beat of the submerged U-boat and started to trail it, broadcasting the submarine's position.

This, said Stark, "was in accordance with her orders, the U. S. vessel gave no information but not to attack."

Four Depth Charges
No further assistance, meanwhile, came from the patrol plane. However, at 10:32 the plane dropped four depth charges which missed their mark on the U-boat, and twenty minutes later withdrew from the hunt.

The Greer clung tenaciously to the trail of its quarry for 3 hours and 28 minutes, always maneuvering to keep the U-boat ahead of it.

Then at 12:40 p. m. in the game of hide-and-seek became grimmer—the submarine changed course and closed on the Greer.

At 12:48 an air bubble broke the surface of the sea not far from the Greer, a sign that a torpedo had been fired. A minute later the feathery wake of its track was visible, but the aim was bad and the torpedo passed 100 yards astern of the destroyer.

At 12:56 the Greer counterattacked with eight depth charges. (The German communiqué on Sept. 6 claimed that the depth charges were dropped at 12:30 but the U-boat left the Greer 2:19.)

The track of the second torpedo was sighted 300 yards away at 12:48 in time for the Greer to maneuver out of its way. This time the Greer sent 11 depth charges hurtling into the sea, but without observing any signs that would indicate a hit.

During this attack a British destroyer was in sight five miles away and inquired if the U. S. vessel wished to conduct a coordinated hunt for the U-boat. The Greer answered "no," and the Britisher left the scene.

The Greer continued its search until 6 p. m. and then resumed its voyage to Iceland.

At no time was the submarine's periscope visible. This fact, coupled with the bad marksmanship, led to the belief that the torpedoes were fired blindly by listening devices.

President Roosevelt mentioned this possibility in his shoot-on-sight speech Sept. 11. He said if the submarine had seen as would-be prey, the attack was a deliberate attempt to sink a plainly identified American warship.

"On the other hand," he went on, "if the submarine was beneath the surface and with the aid of its listening devices, fired in the direction of the sound of the American destroyer without taking the trouble to learn its identity . . . then the attack was even more outrageous."
